

Quince Amsterdam is looking for you:

Senior Software Engineer (allround)

PHP/Javascript

Real Action

You will put your skills into practice with a team of developers to take Quince's three key platforms to the next level. Various international A-brands use these platforms to engage, train and communicate with retail sales persons selling their products worldwide. Our technology stack consists of HTML5/Javascript, Grails/PHP/Node.js, MySQL& MongoDB, as well as native apps for Android & iOS. You will use your experience to help scale out our platforms and infrastructure.

Real Passion

As an allround developer you are passionate about your work. You have at least five years of working experience, including extensive experience with back-end development, API design, front-end and mobile development.

You know your way around:

- » Back-end: PHP (Including experience with frameworks like Laravel or FuelPHP), various types of databases (MySQL, MongoDB, etc.);
- » Front-end: HTML5/CSS/Javascript (including experience with frameworks like Angular2, Vue.js or React.js);
- » Git, (unit) testing, continuous integration and deployment, Linux servers;

It would be a big plus if you have experience with:

- » Back-end: Node.js server, Grails;
- » Cloud platforms such as AWS, GCP or Docker;
- » MessageQueue systems like RabbitMQ or ActiveMQ;
- » Unity/C# development
- » Gulp or Grunt task runners

Because of your curious nature and pro-active mindset you actively experiment with different technologies, and can demonstrate your skills. You take responsibility for your work and your life, strive to deliver the best work you can and are capable to test your own software. You can work alone on project. But even more importantly, you're also a team player: you're not alone on this world, and like to collaborate and create great stuff together with other developers and creatives. Communication with your (sometimes non-technical) team members is self-evident to you.
