

Quince Hungary is looking for you:

Project Manager (Italian speaker)

in Digital Content Production

Real Action

You will put your skills into practice with a team of digital designers to deliver highly engaging and innovative training modules for global accounts. Various international A-brands use these e-learning materials to engage, train and communicate with retail sales persons selling their products worldwide. You will use your experience to...

- » Lead projects from briefing to delivery, while making sure all deadlines are met
- » Keep contact with the clients to gather their inputs and fully understand their requirements
- » Follow and track production process
- » Make project administration transparent
- » Analyse projects, aiming for better quality and profitability
- » Proactively provide solutions for our global clients

Real Passion

As a digital project manager you are passionate about your work. You have at least 3 years of working experience on the field of digital production, including extensive experience in handling multiple projects by keeping deadlines, ensuring that all client requirements are fulfilled.

Because of your system thinking approach and proactive mindset you can analyse your projects for continuous improvement. You take responsibility for your work and are capable to make your projects transparent. But even more importantly, you're also a team player: you're not alone on this world, and like to collaborate and create great stuff together with other leads, creatives and developers. Communication with your team members goes without saying.

About language requirements

Must have: Fluent Italian and English (spoken C1, written B1). Hungarian is a big plus.
